A renewal in US justice department

In order to restore the justice department which was deteriorated during Trump mandate and also fight against domestic extremism, racial inequality within the bounds of law, Lisa Monaco, the current attorney general and Vanita Gupta, the current associate attorney general told the Senate Judiciary Committee that they were engaged to restore an equal justice in the country

So, if it's accepted Ms Monaco would oversee the department's day-to-day operations while Ms Gupta would oversee prosecutors who make a case for the Biden administration in court and also the department's civil rights division. Ms Monaco would first make understood that the Justice Department is independent from partisan influence. Ms Monaco's top of priorities would be domestic extremism issues especially after what happened at the capitol last january. As a consequence she wants law enforcement to prevent repetitions.

While she was well received by the republican even if the investigation of the capitol attack she has to get close to trump's inner circle, Ms Gupta was pressed by them because she apparently supported defunding the police but she denied the facts. Their propositions were met with approvals by the senate judiciary committee but need to be confirmed.

A fight over the Union flag

The Ministers ordered the Union flag must fly everyday on all UK government buildings in Britain and planning permission will be needed to fly an EU flag.

For the culture secretary, Oliver Dowden, the Union flag is a symbol that can unite a nation and is a reminder of their history, something that bound people to each other. Local government secretary, Robert Jenrick, shares the same vision as him and called all local councils to fly the union flag on their buildings. In fact, he added that the nation's flag is a symbol of liberty, unity and freedom.

In addition, following Brexit, planning regulations to allow the EU flag to be flown without planning permission on public buildings will be removed.

However, some politicians are skeptical about this decision. UK secretary of state for Wales, Simon Hart, thinks the union flag should never be used for "political purposes" because it would be a strange thing to do. In his opinion, flags should not be part of political arm. This policy is even mocked by SNP MP Mhairi Black. She stated, "If the Tories think an overload of union jacks on buildings is the answer to promote the strength of the union, then it shows how thin the case for the union is."

She added that The SNP Scottish government will continue to carry on the country safely through the pandemic meanwhile the Tories (also known as Conservative party) are obsessed about flags and symbols.
